Item 4 – Advisory Business

- A. Robasciotti and Associates, Inc. was established in July 2004 by Rachel J. Robasciotti. As of July 1, 2020, the firm began doing business under the name Adasina Social Capital. The firm’s principal owners are Rachel J. Robasciotti and Maya Philipson; its main office is located in San Francisco, California. Either of the principal owners may be reached via the contact information found on the cover page of this brochure.
- B. Adasina Social Capital offers services to two main types of clients; (i) institutions to whom we offer institutional investment advisory services (including sub-advisor and model management services), and (ii) individuals to whom we offer limited client investment management and financial consulting services. See Item 7.

INSTITUTIONAL ADVISORY SERVICES

Sub-Advisory Services: Exchange Traded Fund (“ETF”)

Adasina Social Capital is the sponsor and investment sub-adviser to the Adasina Social Capital All Cap Global ETF, an exchange traded fund that was created by Adasina in 2020 (the “ETF”). The ETF is registered with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission pursuant to the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended. Investors are provided a copy of the ETF prospectus containing a complete disclosure of its organization, investment strategy, management and fee structure at the time they invest.

The ETF offers investors a global, all-cap portfolio that allows investors to align their portfolios with social justice values. The fund uses community-sourced impact data to set the standards for how publicly traded companies participate in gender, racial, economic, and climate justice.

Sub-Advisory and Model Management Services: Separately Managed Account (“SMA”)

Adasina Social Capital is the sub-adviser, or model manager, of SMA strategies, that allows investors to align their portfolios with social justice values. Adasina generally limits its investment portfolios to domestic and international public equities and domestic fixed income securities. Adasina may use other securities as well to help diversify a portfolio when applicable.

All SMA strategies offered via a second or third-party firm are memorialized in a contracted agreement between the firms.

INDIVIDUAL CLIENT SERVICES

Adasina Social Capital relies upon the information received from its client or from the client's other professional advisors, and is not required to independently verify such information. Clients must promptly notify us of any change in their financial situation or investment objectives that would necessitate a review or revision by our advisors of the client's portfolio or plan. Individual clients execute an Investment Management Agreement and/or a Financial Consulting Agreement, with a separate fee arrangement (discussed in Section 5). Financial consulting fees may be billed separately from investment management fees.

Individual Client Service - Investment Management

Based upon client circumstances, and in accordance with client financial objectives, risk tolerance, and social justice values, we provide direct discretionary management of investment accounts, including:

- Education regarding investment instruments and strategies, investment strategy creation, selection of sub-advisors;
- Socially Responsible Investment (SRI) values clarification;
- Determination of appropriate asset allocation; and

- Ongoing account management (clients may identify any investment restrictions to be placed on their account(s)).

Individual Client Service - Financial Consulting

Consultations regarding financial topics provided on an hourly or flat fee basis, and can include, but are not limited to:

- Cash flow;
- Risk assessment;
- Values aligned investment strategy creation; and
- Capital needs analysis (goal funding).
- Adasina Social Capital does not sponsor or act as the investment advisor to any “wrap fee” program.

Individual Client Service - Fiduciary Status

When Adasina provides investment advice to clients regarding their investment accounts, including their retirement plan account or individual retirement account, we are fiduciaries within the meaning of certain state and federal laws such as the Employee Retirement Income Security Act (ERISA) and/or the Internal Revenue Code and the regulations of the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC), as applicable. These regulations require us to act in the client’s best interest and not put our interests ahead of those of the client. Under these provisions, we must:

- Meet a professional standard of care when making investment recommendations;
- Never put our financial interests ahead of clients when making recommendations;
- Avoid misleading statements about conflicts of interest, fees, and investments;
- Follow policies and procedures designed to ensure that we give advice that is in the best interest of the client;
- Charge no more than is reasonable for our services; and
- Give clients basic information about conflicts of interest.

As of December 31, 2021, we manage:

Assets Under Advisement:

- $87,000,000 in sub-advised assets

Assets Under Management:

- $44,000,000 in discretionary client assets; and
- $0 in non-discretionary client assets.

Item 5 – Fees and Compensation

Compensation to Adasina Social Capital occurs via the following:

INSTITUTIONAL ADVISORY FEES

Adasina Social Capital receives administrative and operating fees in connection with serving as the sub-advisor, or model manager of a product or strategy. These fees may include sub-advisory fees as well as investment advisory and portfolio management fees. In addition, Adasina receives compensation as an ETF sponsor, which means that we pay the administrative and operational costs of the ETF and receive the net revenue from the expenses charged to the fund.

INDIVIDUAL CLIENT SERVICES FEES

Investment Management

Adasina Social Capital charges a tiered annual fee for its investment management services, prorated and payable monthly in advance. Unless otherwise negotiated between the firm and the client, the annual fee is calculated according to the following standard fee schedule below. Note that fees on assets above $25,000,000 may be negotiated, and may change on a client by client basis.

Value of Account Assets	Annual Rate
On client assets above $20,000,000	0.20 %
On client assets between $10,000,000 and $20,000,000	0.40 %
On client assets between $5,000,000 and $10,000,000	0.60 %
On client assets between $1,000,000 and $5,000,000	0.80 %
On client assets up to $1,000,000	1.00 %

Fixed fees for financial consulting services may range between $1,000 and $50,000; the hourly rate may range between $385 to $500 per hour. Under certain limited conditions, fees may be negotiable.

A. Fee billing and payment occurs as follows:

- Institutional Advisory Fees
 - Fees for sub-advisory services are charged directly to the investors in the strategy, and are remitted to Adasina Social Capital via the product sponsor.
- Individual Client Services Fees
 - Investment Management
 - Fees for investment management are billed monthly in advance and are debited directly from investment accounts.
 - Financial Consulting (Hourly & Fixed Fee)
 - Fees for financial consulting are billed via invoice, consistent with the contracted services.

B. Adasina Social Capital does not receive commissions or third-party payments of any kind, other than any fees and compensation disclosed above. Item 12 of this brochure describes the factors that Adasina considers in selecting a broker-dealer for client transactions and determining the reasonableness of their compensation (e.g., commissions). In connection with Individual client services, investment accounts may incur separate fees and expenses that are charged by mutual funds and/or exchange traded funds, as well as money managers (disclosed in a fund prospectus or strategy fact sheet). In addition, investment accounts may also incur separate transaction costs or administration fees from custodian or brokerage firms (generally disclosed in a firm's schedule of fees).

C. The specific manner in which fees are charged for Individual client services is established in a client's written agreement with Adasina. Investment management fees must be paid monthly in advance; these fees are debited directly from a client's account(s). If assets are deposited into or withdrawn from a client's account after the inception of a billing period, and depending upon the timing or size of such withdrawal or deposit, the fee payable with respect to such assets may not necessarily be adjusted or prorated based on the number of days remaining in the billing period. Accounts initiated or terminated during a calendar month will be charged a prorated fee. Upon termination of an investment account, any prepaid, unearned fees will be promptly refunded. As a courtesy, we ask that our clients put refund requests in writing.

- D. Adasina Social Capital does not accept third-party compensation in the form of commission, 12b-1 fees, asset-based sales charges, or service fees for the sale of securities or other investment products. As the sponsor and portfolio manager of various ETF and SMA strategies, Adasina is entitled to some or all the fees from the strategies; Adasina may receive these fees in addition to Individual client service investment management fees clients pay to Adasina as an individual client of the Firm. Thus, Adasina has a conflict of interest whenever it recommends an investment in a managed strategy or makes a discretionary investment on behalf of a Firm client.

Item 6 – Performance-Based Fees and Side-By-Side Management

Adasina Social Capital does not charge any performance-based fees (fees based on a share of capital gains on or capital appreciation in client accounts).

Item 7 – Types of Clients

INSTITUTIONAL ADVISORY SERVICES

Adasina Social Capital generally provides institutional asset advisory services primarily to RIA's, ETF Trusts, corporations, banks, custodians, and other accredited investors.

INDIVIDUAL CLIENT SERVICES

Adasina generally provides services primarily to individuals, families, charitable organizations, corporations, businesses, and trusts. Adasina imposes a minimum investment account balance of $1,000,000 per client relationship. However, we may accept clients with smaller portfolios, on a case by case basis.

Item 8 – Methods of Analysis, Investment Strategies, and Risk of Loss

- A. Investment advice provided is based, primarily, upon long-term investment strategies. Adasina Social Capital develops, for Individual clients, asset allocation(s) for each account that may use several different asset classes as doing so may reduce portfolio risk (or volatility) over the long-run. Adasina works primarily with socially responsible investors, most of whom screen investments using a set of non-financial criteria (“the Adasina Social Justice Investing Criteria”), a data-driven set of investment standards that guides investment selection to reflect social justice values and support progressive movements for change. This Criteria is developed in partnership with social justice movements, and is used to create investment screens as well as cross-sector campaigns that advance racial, gender, economic, and climate justice.

While investment strategies are designed to potentially produce the highest possible return for a given level of risk, it is not possible to guarantee that an investment objective or goal will be achieved. Investing in securities involves risk of loss that clients should be prepared to bear.

- B. Investment theory and historical capital market return data suggest that, over long periods of time, there is a relationship between the level of risk assumed and the level of return that can be expected from an investment. In general, higher risk (or volatility) is associated with higher returns and lower risk is associated with lower expected returns. In addition, values-aligned (i.e ESG and social justice investing) investors may also receive returns that differ significantly from the return of the overall financial market, given the additional screening that occurs in these portfolios. Below are the material risks of investing in each of the broad asset classes present in our investment strategies.

DOMESTIC AND INTERNATIONAL EQUITIES RISKS

- Market Risk. Securities traded on securities exchanges are subject to demand and supply conditions. Investors could receive less than the original investment amount when they sell a security if the demand for that security has fallen. Prices generally reflect investors' confidence in the economy, interest rates, and many other factors.
- Liquidity Risk. Liquidity risk exists when particular investments would be difficult to purchase or sell, possibly preventing clients from selling such securities at an advantageous time or price.
- Inflation Risk. Inflation is the loss of purchasing power that results from a general rise in prices. Portfolios may respond either positively or negatively to inflation, but the likelihood is that investors will experience a change in purchasing power that is less advantageous than suggested by nominal measures of return.
- Sector Risks. Portfolios may be overweight in certain market sectors; therefore any negative development affecting those sectors will have a greater impact on the client's investments.
- Mid-Cap and Small-Cap Risk. Stocks of mid-cap and small-cap companies can exhibit greater risk than stocks of larger companies. Many of these companies are young and have a limited track record. Their securities may trade less frequently and in more limited volume than those of more mature companies. Mid-cap and small-cap companies also may lack the managerial, financial, or other resources necessary to implement their business plans or succeed in the face of competition or economic turmoil.
- Foreign Investing Risk. Foreign investing involves risks not typically associated with U.S. investments. These risks include, among others, adverse fluctuations in foreign currency values as well as adverse political, social, and economic developments affecting a foreign country. In addition, foreign investing involves less publicly-available information, and more volatile or less-liquid securities markets. Investments in foreign countries could be affected by factors not present in the U.S., such as restrictions on receiving the investment proceeds from a foreign country, foreign tax laws, and potential difficulties in enforcing contractual obligations. Foreign accounting may be less transparent than U.S. accounting practices and foreign regulations may be inadequate or irregular.
 - Emerging Markets Risk. Countries with emerging markets may have relatively unstable governments, social and legal systems that do not protect shareholders, economies based on only a few industries, and securities markets that trade a small number of issues. In addition, emerging securities markets may have different clearance and settlement procedures, which may be unable to keep pace with the volume of securities transactions or otherwise make it difficult to engage in such transactions.
- ETF Tracking Risk. ETFs in which a client invests will not be able to replicate exactly the performance of the indices they track because the total return generated by the securities will be reduced by transaction costs incurred in adjusting the actual balance of the securities. In addition, the ETFs will incur expenses not incurred by their applicable indices. Certain securities comprising the indices tracked by the ETFs may, from time to time, temporarily be unavailable, which may further impede the ETF's ability to track their applicable indices. The market value of ETF shares may differ from their net asset value. This difference in price may be due to the fact that the supply and demand in the market for the ETF shares at any point in time is not always identical to the supply and demand in the market for the underlying basket of securities. Accordingly, there may be times when an ETF share trades at a premium or discount to its net asset value.

FIXED INCOME RISKS

- Bond Market Risk. The risk that the bond market as a whole would decline, bringing the value of individual securities down with it regardless of their fundamental characteristics.
- Interest Rate Risk. Security price and total return will vary in response to changes in interest rates. If rates increase, the market value of bonds generally will decline, as will the value of your investment. Securities with longer maturities tend to produce higher yields, but are more sensitive to changes in interest rates and are subject to greater fluctuations in value.
- Credit Risk. A bond issuer's credit rating may change, which can cause price volatility, and in the case of a credit rating downgrade, lower prices.
- Liquidity Risk. The risk that investors may have difficulty finding a buyer when they want to sell and may be forced to sell at a significant discount to market value. Liquidity risk is greater for thinly traded securities such as lower-rated bonds, bonds that were part of a small issue, bonds that have recently had their credit ratings downgraded or bonds that were sold by an infrequent issuer. Bonds are generally the most liquid during the period right after issuance when the typical bond has the highest trading volume. Liquidity risk may also result during large scale disruption of the financial system.
- Default Risk. The possibility that a bond issuer will be unable to make interest or principal payments when they are due. If these payments are not made according to the agreements in the bond documentation, the issuer can default.
- Call Risk. Some corporate, municipal and agency bonds have a "call provision" entitling their issuers to redeem them at a specified price on a date prior to maturity. Declining interest rates may accelerate the redemption of a callable bond, causing an investor's principal to be returned sooner than expected. In that scenario, investors have to reinvest the principal at the lower interest rates

- C. Adasina Social Capital generally employs investment strategies that do not involve a significant or unusual risk other than those common to equity and debt markets.

Item 9 – Disciplinary Information

Registered investment advisers are required to disclose all material facts regarding any legal or disciplinary events that would be material to your evaluation of Adasina or the integrity of Adasina's management. However, Adasina Social Capital has no information applicable to this item and has never been involved in a disciplinary event.

Item 10 – Other Financial Industry Activities and Affiliations

- A. Adasina Social Capital is not registered as a broker-dealer and our employees are not registered representatives of any broker-dealer.
- B. Neither Adasina Social Capital nor its employees are registered as a Futures Commission Merchant, Commodity Pool Operator, or a Commodity Trading Advisor.
- C. Neither Adasina Social Capital, nor its staff, have any relationships or arrangements with any related persons.
- D. Adasina Social Capital does not receive compensation for recommending or selecting other investment advisors for its client assets.

Item 11 – Code of Ethics

- A. Adasina Social Capital has adopted a Code of Ethics for all supervised persons of the firm describing its high standard of business conduct and fiduciary duty to its clients. The Code of Ethics includes provisions relating to the confidentiality of client information, a prohibition on insider trading, restrictions on the acceptance of significant gifts, reporting of certain gifts and business entertainment items, and personal securities trading procedures, among other things. All supervised persons at Adasina must acknowledge the terms of the Code of Ethics annually, or as amended.

Upon request, Adasina Social Capital will provide any client or prospective client a copy of the firm's Code of Ethics.

- B. Adasina Social Capital anticipates that, in appropriate circumstances, consistent with clients' investment objectives, it will cause accounts over which Adasina has management authority to effect, and will recommend to investment advisory clients or prospective clients, the purchase or sale of securities in which Adasina, its affiliates and/or clients, directly or indirectly, have a position of interest. Adasina's employees and associated persons are required to follow Adasina's Code of Ethics that ensures that, if a conflict of interest arises between Adasina and the client, the best interest of the client will prevail.
- C. Subject to satisfying this policy and applicable laws, officers, directors and employees of Adasina Social Capital and its affiliates may trade for their own accounts in securities which are recommended to and/or purchased for Adasina's clients. The Code of Ethics is designed to assure that the personal securities transactions, activities, and interests of Adasina employees will not interfere with (i) making decisions in the best interest of advisory clients and (ii) implementing such decisions while, at the same time, allowing employees to invest for their own accounts. Under the Code of Ethics, certain classes of securities have been designated as exempt transactions, based upon a determination that these would materially not interfere with the best interest of Adasina's clients.

Nonetheless, because the Code of Ethics, in some circumstances, would permit employees to invest in the same securities as clients, there is a possibility that employees might benefit from the market activity of a client account in a security. However, employee trading is continually monitored under the Code of Ethics to reasonably prevent conflicts of interest between Adasina, its employees and associated persons, and its clients.

- D. Certain affiliated accounts may trade in the same securities with client accounts at the same time, on an aggregated basis, when consistent with Adasina Social Capital's obligation of best execution. In such circumstances, the affiliated and client accounts will share commission costs equally and receive securities at a total average price. Adasina's employees and persons associated with Adasina are required to follow the Firm's Code of Ethics, which ensures that, if a conflict of interest arises between Adasina and a client, the best interest of the client will prevail.

Item 12 – Brokerage Practices

A. INSTITUTIONAL ADVISORY SERVICES - Selecting Brokers/Custodians

Adasina Social Capital does not maintain custody of advised or sub-advised assets. End-client assets must be maintained in an account at a "qualified custodian," generally a broker-dealer or bank, but Adasina is not involved in any broker, or custodial decisions.

INDIVIDUAL CLIENT SERVICES - Selecting Brokers/Custodians

Adasina Social Capital does not maintain custody of Individual client assets that we manage; although we may be deemed to have custody of client assets if authority to withdraw assets from account(s) is given (see Item 15, below).

Assets must be maintained in an account at a "qualified custodian," generally a broker-dealer or bank. Adasina requires that clients use Charles Schwab & Co., Inc. (Schwab), registered broker-dealer, SIPC member, as the qualified custodian ("the custodian"). Adasina is independently owned and operated and is not affiliated with any custodian. The custodian will hold client assets in a brokerage account and buy and sell securities when Adasina instructs them to. While Adasina requires that clients use the custodian as custodian/broker, clients will decide whether to do so and will open the account by entering into an account agreement directly with them. Adasina will not open the account for clients, although we may assist clients in doing so. If clients do not wish to place assets with the custodian, then Adasina cannot manage client accounts.

Factors considered in selecting, or recommending, broker-dealers:

- Combination of transaction execution services and asset custody services (generally without a separate fee for custody) and capability to execute, clear, and settle trades;
- Capability to facilitate transfers and payments to and from accounts;
- Breadth of available investment products (stocks, bonds, mutual funds, ETF's, etc.);
- Competitiveness of the price of services, willingness to negotiate prices; and
- Quality of services, reputation, financial strength, security and stability.

Custodian provides Adasina and our clients with access to their institutional brokerage services (trading, custody, reporting, and related services), many of which are not typically available to retail customers. They also make available various support services. The support services are generally available on an unsolicited basis (we don't have to request them) and at no charge to us.

1. Adasina does not receive research or other soft dollar benefits.
2. Adasina does not receive any referrals from a broker-dealer or third party.
3. Adasina does not routinely recommend, request or require that a client direct us to execute transactions through a specified broker-dealer.

Adasina does not routinely permit clients to direct brokerage. As we have discretionary trading authority over all client accounts, we may decline to work with clients who would like to direct brokerage.

B. Adasina Social Capital aggregates the purchase and sale of securities in client accounts whenever possible and appropriate. When they do occur, non-aggregated trades are typically the result of trading at the client's request, for example, when a client requests a withdrawal and there is insufficient cash in the account such that a trade is required in order to raise the required funds.

Item 13 – Review of Accounts

INDIVIDUAL CLIENT SERVICES

Adasina Social Capital periodically reviews Individual client investment accounts in the following ways:

- A. Accounts are reviewed, on an ongoing basis, by qualified staff members of Adasina, supervised by Cassandra “Sandy” Holmes. At least semi-annually, each client account is reviewed to evaluate the need for rebalancing. No less than annually, Adasina offers an opportunity for clients to update us on risk tolerance, time horizon, and investment philosophy; account service needs and performance may also be reviewed.
- B. Other than periodic reviews of client investment accounts are triggered by Individual client request or inquiry, a change in a client's investment objectives, tax considerations, large deposits or withdrawals, changes in economic climate, or updates to social screens.
- C. RIA investment management clients can access online on-demand performance reports detailing investments and changes in asset values. As stated in Item 15, these clients also receive standard account statements from the custodian no less than quarterly.

Item 14 – Client Referrals and Other Compensation

- A. Adasina Social Capital receives no economic benefit from any person or entity for Individual client services.
- B. Adasina does not directly, or indirectly, compensate any person or entity for Individual client referrals.

Item 15 – Custody

Under government regulations, Adasina is deemed to have custody of Individual client assets if, for example, clients authorize us to instruct the custodian to deduct advisory fees directly from client account(s) or if they grant Adasina authority to move money to another party's account. The custodian maintains actual custody of assets. Individual clients will receive account statements directly from them at least quarterly. Statements will be sent to the email or postal mailing address provided. Clients should carefully review those statements, promptly, when received.

Item 16 – Investment Discretion

INSTITUTIONAL ADVISORY SERVICES

In most cases Adasina Social Capital acts as the sub-advisor, or model manager, to institutional profiles, and does not have discretion over strategy assets.

In the rare cases that Adasina Social Capital has discretionary authority we may execute transactions, the purchase and sale of securities, arrange for payments, and generally act in most matters necessary to the handling of the account. Such discretion is to be exercised in a manner consistent with Adasina's Code of Ethics. Investment guidelines and restrictions must be provided to Adasina in writing.

INDIVIDUAL CLIENT SERVICES

Adasina Social Capital receives discretionary authority from the Individual client, at the outset of a relationship, to execute transactions without a client's prior approval. These transactions may include the purchase and sale of securities, arrange for payments, and generally acting on behalf of clients in most matters necessary to the handling of the account(s). In all cases, however, such discretion is to be exercised in a manner consistent with the stated investment objectives for the particular Individual client account(s) as guided by Adasina's Code of Ethics. Investment guidelines and restrictions must be provided to Adasina in writing.

Item 17 – Voting Client Securities

- A. Adasina Social Capital retains the right whether or not to vote proxies. Adasina's Proxy Voting Policies are not meant to be exhaustive, nor can they anticipate every potential voting issue on which shareholders may be asked to vote. Adasina believes in directing corporations to adopt policies that result in sound corporate governance, overall corporate sustainability, and the advancement of social justice. At our discretion, we can refrain from voting if Adasina judges it is not in the best interest of the portfolio or if there is no reasonable expectation of a positive effect on the value of the investment or an impact on social justice investment objectives. In all proxy voting, Adasina will vote in a prudent and diligent fashion and only after a careful evaluation of the issue presented on the ballot.

If a conflict of interest arises between Adasina Social Capital and the client, the best interest of the client will prevail at all times, as we are required to follow Adasina's Code of Ethics in all matters related to the management portfolios. A copy of our proxy voting policies are available by request, in writing, via the information provided on the cover page of this brochure.

- B. If Adasina is not granted permission to vote proxies, proxies or other solicitations will be received directly from the custodian. If there are questions about any direct solicitations, Adasina may be contacted via the information provided on the cover page of this brochure.

Item 18 – Financial Information

- A. Adasina Social Capital does not require or solicit prepayment of fees of more than $1,200, more than six (6) months in advance.
- B. Adasina has no financial commitment that impairs its ability to meet contractual and fiduciary commitments to clients.
- C. Adasina has not been the subject of a bankruptcy proceeding, at any time during the past ten (10) years.
